

IT Management Consulting

noventum consulting is an internationally active IT management consulting company. We support our customers – among them many DAX-listed groups of companies as well as important small to medium enterprises (SMEs) – in the IT challenges they are faced with and in their effort to establish a modern company culture.

For their competitive edge, we organise optimal IT processes and structures befitting the smart business processes. We have a passion for well thought-out strategic analysis and strive for the perfect technical implementation.

Having started 1996, we now have more than 100 employees in Münster, Düsseldorf and Luxemburg and continue to grow.

Our customers appreciate our solution-oriented, optimistic pragmatism which always keeps an eye on their strategic objective.

We are convinced that good work should be concomitant with a humane business culture. That is why we are actively involved as ambassadors of GREAT PLACE TO WORK, where we received the award as Germany's Best Employer multiple times.

noventum consulting – PEOPLE. PROJECTS. QUALITY.

Solutions

A lot of our customers' challenges are highly individualised and require corresponding solutions. But contained in each solution is also a certain amount of general experience. We have brought these experiences to the point and planned them through in typical solution scenarios. Created in the process were methodologies, checklists, glossaries, solution approaches, which in total constitute our wealth of experience to the benefit of our customers.

As such, we do not have to reinvent the wheel anew each time, rather, we come to you with solutions ideas in hand, already.

Friends

We maintain professional partnerships with leading IT solutions and product providers, we are represented in the pivotal panels and participate in them with commitment. Our network includes outstanding personalities from science, business, and society. Why do we do that? We maintain these varied contacts so that you can rest assured to receive consulting of the highest calibre at any time.

HR Management

The competitiveness of companies will, in the future, depend even much more on the ability to attract, keep and promote high-performing employees. Employer attractiveness therefore gains decisive importance.

To support companies on their path to a future-oriented business culture is a special offer for the executive management of our customers.

Cultural aspects of business management are just as much subject of our consulting as implementing them in their IT Technology.
